

Touching Leaders, Changing Lives

The dream and hope of ICM is that every Christian leaders in the third world will have the opportunity to be trained for evangelism and church planting, so that they may reach their own for Christ. This cannot be realized without the partnership of thousands of Christians.

THIS IS AN INVITATION to share in the rewards of training one or more of the 100,000 leaders and church planters ICM has and is helping to train.

These men and women you will train are some of their countries brightest, and very likely their nation's best hopes for hearing about Jesus and His saving grace.

When these assume positions of leadership in their society or church, because of you, they will know how to divide the truth from heresy and influence or shepherd those in their care with the love of Christ.

"When I received the ICM leadership training curriculum, I said this is it! This will help me fulfil my vision of training indigenous people."
